

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Flight 93 National Memorial
Press Release

724-329-8131 phone
maryellen_snyder@nps.gov

---

National Park Service News Release

Release Date: October 15, 2015

Contact: MaryEllen Snyder, maryellen\_snyder@nps.gov, 724-329-8131

Flight 93 National Memorial Hours Change New Hours; Sunrise to Sunset as of October 19,2015

Shanksville, PA – Beginning Monday, October 19, 2015 Flight 93 National Memorial will be open from sunrise to sunset. Superintendent Stephen M. Clark encourages visitors to plan to visit the Memorial between dawn and dusk, and for their own safety all visitors must exit the Memorial before sunset. The Memorial is closed from sunset to sunrise. Entrance to the Memorial is free, no entrance fees are charged.

The recently opened Flight 93 National Memorial Visitor Center hours will continue to be from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tickets will be distributed at the visitor center for individual entry through October 31. Anyone who has made a reservation online should check in at the Visitor Center to pick up their reserved tickets. Beginning November 1, only groups of 15 or more will need to make reservations online at recreation.gov to tour the visitor center. Individual entry will be on a first-come, first-served basis. During periods of heavy visitation, expect to wait outside in lines for entry.

For more information about Flight 93 National Memorial visit www.nps.gov/flni. For information about all five National Parks located in western Pennsylvania visit www.nps.gov/flni/planyourvisit, Facebook pages, email WEPAinformation@NPS.gov or call MaryEllen Snyder at 724-329-8131.